FOOD FACTS-O-FUN:

Bake • The original beach food from Trinidad & Tobago consisting of a puffy fry bread with (traditionally) fried shark and condiments.

Cassareep Sauce • A thick black liquid made from cassava root, often with additional spices, which is used as a base for many sauces, especially Guyanese pepperpot.

Chana • Hindi word for chickpea.

Green Seasoning • A seasoning paste made from fresh herbs, including cilantro, oregano, parsley, thyme, garlic, and chives.

Plantain • Dense and starchy banana-like fruit used in cuisine throughout the world and grown all through the tropics. When very green, the fruit has a similar flavor profile to a potato, but gets sweeter as it ripens.

Scotch Bonnet Chili • A small yellow/orange pepper found throughout the Caribbean. Very similar in appearance to a habanero, but with a slightly sweeter flavor.

Seitan • Wheat flour dough washed with water until all the starch granules have been removed, leaving a sticky gluten-goo which is then cooked before being eaten.

Sir Oatmeal Raisin "Danger" Kooky Cat • Kevin's beloved knighted cat buddy surmised to have human and/or raccoon genes, considered by many to be immune to fear, and is the last link between humans and space aliens. Always enjoys belly rubs between hand-shakes and sidewalk strolls.

Szechuan Pepper • A pepper that's not hot or pungent like black, white, or chili pepper, but instead it has light lemony overtones and creates a tingly numbness in the mouth (caused by its 3% of hydroxy alpha sanshool).

Tamarind • The edible pulp from a pod that grows on the tamarind tree. It is used in both sweet and savory dishes worldwide. The pulp is very sour when young, but becomes sweeter as the pods mature.

COCKTAIL FACTS-O-FUN:

Andy Capp's Fries • A spicy flavored corn and potato snack made to look like fries.

Baijiu • The most consumed spirit on Earth, this spirit has been made for over 1,000 years and is typically distilled from sorghum molasses.

Damiana • A floral Mexican liqueur distilled from the damiana plant.

Guanabana • A rum-based liqueur infused with guanabana (soursop) fruit; it has subtle sweet notes of honey, coconut, pineapple, and passion fruit.

Mamajuana • A mysterious Dominican "aphrodisiac"; consisting of rum, herbs, tree bark, red wine, and honey.

Mekhong • The official spirit of Thailand; technically a whiskey, but more closely related to rum.

Sorrel • Made from a type of hibiscus flower.
